

The Metropolitan Center for Regional Studies at UCF Announces A Public Forum:

Sponsored by UCF's Metropolitan Center for Regional Studies, Heart of Florida United Way, UCF's Institute for Social and Behavioral Sciences, Orange County and WORKFORCE CENTRAL FLORIDA.

Poverty in Central Florida:

Work, Wages and Well-Being Among the Region's Low and Moderate Income Families

As local governments and agencies begin to adjust to the impacts of Amendment One, the University of Central Florida will share the results of the first-ever comprehensive survey of our region's low-income population and the struggles they face in their daily lives. This study, conducted by Dr. James D. Wright and Dr. Jana L. Jasinski of the Institute for Social and Behavioral Sciences, outlines the issues facing working families, seniors, and the disabled citizens who, in large measure, comprise the lowest income segment of our community.

Speaker:

Jared Bernstein, Director of the Living Standards Program, Economic Policy Institute and Author of The State of Working America

Metropolitan Center
for Regional Studies

Wednesday, March 5, 2008

8:30 a.m. to Noon

Harry P. Leu Gardens

Heart of Florida United Way

RSVP at metro@mail.ucf.edu or 407-823-2741
Free and open to the public

